Rationale and key rating drivers

Reaffirmation of ratings to debt instruments of National Housing Bank (NHB) considers expectation of continued support from the Government of India (GoI), given its 100% shareholding in NHB, GoI's representation on NHB's Board and its strategic importance in India's housing finance landscape and its status as the apex development finance institution (DFI) for the housing finance sector in India.

Ratings also consider NHB's healthy liquidity and its continued access to low-cost debt funds, such as deposit funds generated from priority sector lending (PSL) shortfall of banks and competitive pricing in market issuances. CARE Ratings Limited (CareEdge Ratings) also notes that NHB's asset quality metrics remain comfortable, despite its steadily growing scale.

However, credit strengths are partially offset by NHB's modest profitability, given its limitations on lending spread, and its policy objective, and concentration of its loans to a single segment. While its borrower-wise concentration remains high, with its top 25 borrowers comprising ~89% of NHB's total loans and advances as on June 30, 2026, strong credit profile of top borrowers and asset-protection mechanism provided in the NHB Act provides comfort.

Rating sensitivities: Factors likely to lead to rating actions

Positive factors

- Not applicable

Negative factors

- Material changes in strategic role played by NHB in supporting the housing sector.
- GoI's shareholding reducing below 51%.

Analytical approach: Standalone

Standalone; factoring linkages with the GoI given its 100% ownership and support in terms of representation on the Board from ministries, and NHB's access to low-cost funding by way of deposits and being instrumental in major government schemes.

Outlook: Stable

Stable outlook reflects CareEdge Ratings' expectation that NHB will continue to be strategically important to the GoI and will receive need-based support from the GoI, while reporting a healthy growth and maintaining comfortable asset quality and capitalisation levels.

Detailed description of key rating drivers

Key strengths

Apex DFI status, fully owned by the GoI with demonstrated support

Established in 1988 under the NHB Act, 1987, NHB is a key DFI and one of five all India Financial Institutions (AIFIs), dedicated to strengthening India's housing finance ecosystem. Initially tasked with regulating, supervising, and supporting housing finance companies (HFCs) and primary lending institutions (PLIs), NHB's regulatory functions were transferred to the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) in August 2019, following its full ownership shift to the GoI. NHB retains supervisory oversight of HFCs and benefits from strong institutional backing, with Board representation from key Ministries and state governments. Its credit profile is reinforced by sovereign ownership and access to low-cost funding, enabling it to mobilise resources efficiently to support affordable housing initiatives.

Given NHB's strategic importance for the GoI, NHB has been instrumental in government schemes, such as Pradhan Mantri Awas Yojana-Urban (PMAY-U) 2.0, where NHB is one of the nodal agencies for the Credit Linked Subsidy Scheme (CLSS), under Pradhan Mantri Awas Yojana (PMAY) 2.0. NHB exclusively manages the Urban Infrastructure Development Fund (UIDF), a fund set up to utilise PSL shortfall towards development of urban infrastructure in Tier-II and Tier-III cities.

Sizeable market presence with majority lending to HFCs

Being the apex DFI for HFCs, NHB has a strong and sizeable market presence in the housing finance sector in India with loan book of ₹1,26,048 crore as on June 30, 2026, against ₹1,08,372 crore as on June 30, 2025. Of the loan book as on June 30, 2026, majority is towards refinance segment and balance towards direct finance and UIDF.

Being the apex supervisory DFI for HFCs, NHB lends to PLIs, such as scheduled commercial banks (SCBs), small finance banks (SFBs), regional rural banks (RRBs), and others. Of the refinance segment, proportion of loans to HFCs continued to dominate the portfolio mix (80%), followed by loans to SCBs (16%), while loans to SFBs and RRBs comprised the balance of the refinance portfolio, as on June 30, 2026.

Comfortable asset quality

NHB's asset quality remains comfortable with gross non-performing assets (GNPA) of 0.49% as on June 30, 2026, compared to 0.60% as on June 30, 2025. It continues to carry ~100% provision cover against its GNPAs, and hence net NPA (NNPA) remained low at 0.05% as on June 30, 2026, compared to nil in June 2025. Per the NHB Act, NHB holds a first lien on proceeds from financed receivables and has mandates from scheduled commercial banks for direct debit of their RBI accounts, in case of delays or defaults in refinance repayments. As the supervisory authority for HFCs, NHB typically receives priority in debt recovery, contributing to its historically strong asset quality. CareEdge Ratings expects the asset quality to remain healthy going forward.

Comfortable capital position

NHB's capital position remains strong, supported by consistent internal accruals, exemption from dividend payouts, and a favourable asset mix, particularly refinance to SCBs with lower risk weights. As on June 30, 2026, the bank maintained a conservative gearing of 6.06x. Its capital adequacy ratio (CAR) is 43.53% as on June 30, 2026, against 43.43% as on June 30, 2025, significantly above the 9% regulatory minimum, driven by the transition to Basel III norms from July 01, 2024, which reduced risk-weighted assets under revised RBI guidelines. CareEdge Ratings expects NHB's gearing and CAR to remain stable with expected internal accruals and expected growth.

Diversified resource profile

NHB maintains a well-diversified and cost-effective funding profile, supported by concessional allocations from the affordable housing fund (AHF), which is financed through PSL shortfalls of SCBs. Its quasi-sovereign status enables access to low-cost funding through bonds, commercial paper, and international agencies. As on June 30, 2026, total borrowings stood at ₹1,10,697 crore, with deposits (AHF and UIDF) comprising 33%, bonds 37%, and other borrowings comprising 30%.

Key weaknesses

Moderate earnings profile

NHB reported a net profit of ₹1,701 crore in FY26, translating to return on average total assets (ROTA) of 1.35% and return on average tangible net worth (TNW) of 9.76% compared to net profit of ₹1901 crore, ROTA of 1.66% and return on net worth (RONW) of 12.23% in FY25. Its earning profile was supported by contained operating expenses and credit cost. However, its margins remain moderate, given the limitation on its lending spread and its role in development of Indian housing finance market.

Credit concentration

The credit concentration risk for NHB remains high with top 25 exposures accounting for ~88% of the loan book as on June 30, 2026, against ~89% of the loan book as on June 30, 2025. The high borrower concentration can be attributed to NHB's top customers, having majority market share of India's housing finance industry. Given the bank's operations with a focus on the housing sector, NHB is exempted from the RBI's credit concentration norms. However, CareEdge Ratings notes that top 25 customers have a strong credit profile (external credit rating of A and above) underpinning quality of the company's loan book. Credit risk is partially mitigated, considering the robust asset-protection mechanism provided in the NHB Act.

Liquidity: Strong

As on June 30, 2026, NHB's liquidity profile remained adequate, with cash and investments of ₹5,928 crore and sanctioned unutilised bank lines of ₹5,050 crore, which along with its scheduled collections of ₹23,975 crore (including interest income) in the next 12 months remains sufficient to cover its debt obligations of ₹31,064 crore (including interest obligations) for the same period. NHB's liquidity profile also takes comfort from its strong financial flexibility, arising from sovereign ownership, and diversified funding profile.

NHB was established as on July 09, 1988, under the NHB Act, 1987, of the Parliament as an apex institution in the housing segment. The NHB is chartered to function as a principal agency to promote HFCs and to provide financial and other support to such institutions. The NHB is notified as a Public Financial Institution under section 4A of the Companies Act, 1956 and was a wholly owned subsidiary of the RBI. However, following the GoI's announcement in Union Budget 2018, the RBI divested its entire stake to the GoI, which now holds a 100% stake in NHB. NHB provides refinance support to SCBs, HFCs, RRBs, other development cooperative societies, and development banks in the housing finance sector.
