01 Green Initiative

Supporting Paperless Communication and Sustainable growth

The Ministry of Corporate Affairs (MCA) has undertaken a Green Initiative in Corporate Governance by permitting companies to send notices and other documents to shareholders through electronic mode. Pursuant to MCA Circular Nos. 17/2011 dated April 21, 2011, and 18/2011 dated April 29, 2011, companies may communicate documents including General Meetings, Audited Financial Statements, Board's Reports and Auditor's Reports electronically to shareholders at their registered e-mail addresses.

Mantra Capital Limited supports this initiative and encourages the use of electronic communication as an effective means of reducing paper consumption and the environmental impact associated with printing and physical distribution of documents.

In accordance with the applicable regulatory requirements, the Annual Report and other shareholder communications are made available electronically and can also be accessed on the Company's website at www.mantracapital.in. Shareholders are encouraged to register and/or update their e-mail addresses with their respective Depository Participants and, where applicable, with the Company's Registrar and Share Transfer Agent to facilitate timely receipt of communications in electronic form.

Sustainability Through Our Business

For Mantra Capital, the commitment to responsible growth extends beyond paperless communication. Sustainability is increasingly being integrated into both our lending activities and our operating model.

A key element of this approach is our focus on Green Mobility Finance, particularly financing electric three-wheelers used for productive and livelihood purposes.

By enabling drivers and small entrepreneurs to transition towards electric mobility, we seek to support cleaner transportation while helping borrowers improve the economics of their livelihoods through potentially lower operating costs. Our technology-led operating model also enables greater digitization across loan origination, credit assessment, documentation, servicing and internal workflows, progressively reducing dependence on physical documentation while improving operational efficiency.

As the Company grows, we intend to strengthen our sustainability framework, progressively measure the environmental impact of our green portfolio and explore additional financing opportunities that support productive use, energy efficiency and the transition towards a lower-carbon economy.

“For Mantra Capital, Green is therefore both an operating responsibility and a business opportunity - reducing our own resource footprint while financing livelihoods that can contribute to a cleaner and more sustainable future.”

02 Widening Circles of Opportunity

“Every enterprise begins with a belief.”

At Mantra Capital, our belief is that access to the right kind of finance can do more than fund a transaction. It can strengthen a livelihood, enable an entrepreneur to grow, create greater resilience for a family and, over time, widen the circle of economic opportunities. We have therefore chosen to focus on segments that remain underserved by conventional finance - small businesses, self-employed entrepreneurs, and individuals whose assets and enterprises are closely linked to their livelihoods. Our approach is centered on productive credit: financing that enables borrowers to earn, build and grow. This philosophy is reflected in our two principal lending themes - MSME Finance and Green Loans for productive use, including financing for electric three-wheelers used for passenger mobility and goods movement.

We are still a young institution. That has been an advantage. It has allowed us to build without the burden of legacy systems, adopt technology from the outset and create processes around data, automation, and accountability. Our technology architecture currently operates across multiple specialized software platforms: Loan origination system (LOS), Tally for accounting, Loan management system (LMS), Human resource management system (HRMS). We intend to progressively integrate these into a unified technology ecosystem that will eventually serve as the Single Source of Truth (SSOT) for all our data, providing enterprise-wide visibility and the ability to drill down to the most granular level of detail, while strengthening consistency and control as we scale.

Our next phase of growth is equally deliberate. Rather than focusing simply on entering more locations, we aim to deepen the markets where we already operate - reaching more customers through existing offices, expanding our product offering and creating financing structures and repayment options that better reflect the cash flows of the various communities we serve. For Mantra, growth is therefore not simply about becoming larger. It is about making each circle stronger - more customers served, more livelihoods supported, more productive assets financed, greater use of technology and data, and a progressively wider economic and social impact.

From one borrower to a business.

From one business to a livelihood.

From one livelihood to a community.

And from every community, a wider circle of opportunity.

03 Company Overview

Building an Impact-Led, Technology-Enabled Lending Platform for Productive Enterprise

Mantra Capital Limited is a listed Non-Banking Financial Company focused on extending responsible credit to micro, small and medium enterprises and self-employed borrowers who remain underserved by the traditional financial system. By the end of FY 2025-26, the Company had completed approximately 18 months of operations and established an operating network of 20 branches across Karnataka, Telangana, Andhra Pradesh, and the Delhi NCR region. This network provides the foundation for a lending platform designed to deepen local market presence before adding physical infrastructure.

“For Mantra, impact begins with the purpose of the credit we provide. We focus on financing that supports enterprises, productive livelihoods, and the transition to cleaner mobility. As the company Scales, we intend to progressively strengthen the measurement and reporting of the economic, social, and environmental arising from our lending activities.”

What We Finance

MSME Finance

Secured finance for small business owners, traders, service providers, self-employed individuals, and micro-entrepreneurs. The emphasis is on productive economic activity, business cash flows and repayment capacity.

Green Loans

Finance for electric three-wheelers used for passenger mobility and goods transportation. The asset is both livelihood-generating and part of the transition towards cleaner mobility.

From building the network to deepening the market

The first phase of Mantra Capital's journey was focused on establishing the operating platform and geographic presence. The next phase will be driven increasingly by greater productivity from the existing branch network rather than expansion through branch additions alone.

“From expanding our footprint to deepening our presence.”

Management's focus is on strengthening sourcing channels, widening customer reach and developing a deeper understanding of the economic activity surrounding each branch. At the same time, the Company intends to broaden financing solutions and, where appropriate, develop repayment structures that better reflect the cash-generation cycles of the businesses and livelihoods being financed.

Our Growth Strategy

- DEEPEN: Increase penetration, customer reach and productivity within existing branch markets.
- BROADEN: Expand financing solutions for MSMEs, self-employed borrowers & productive assets, including Green Loans.
- ADAPT: Develop structures and repayment terms that better reflect borrower cash-flow patterns.

- SCALE RESPONSIBLY Generate greater volumes and operating leverage without proportionate physical expansion.

MSME Finance: Credit for Productive Enterprise

Mantra Capital's principal lending focus is secured MSME finance for productive economic activity. Customers include small business owners, traders, service providers, self-employed individuals, and micro-entrepreneurs whose businesses may be viable and cash-generating but who can face constraints in accessing appropriately structured institutional credit.

The Company's approach combines local market knowledge, field-based assessment, disciplined underwriting and an understanding of the borrower's business, cash flows and repayment capacity. The objective is not simply to finance a transaction, but to provide credit that supports the continuation, expansion or strengthening of productive economic activity.

Productive credit – Enterprise – Income – Livelihood

Green Loans: Productive assets. Cleaner mobility

Green mobility is an important part of Mantra Capital's lending proposition. The Company finances electric three-wheelers used for productive purposes, including passenger transportation and movement of goods. For many borrowers, these vehicles are not merely modes of transport; they are income-generating assets and an important source of livelihood.

Green Loans therefore extend the same underlying lending philosophy as MSME finance: credit for productive economic activity. At the same time, electric mobility provides an opportunity to align the borrower's economic interest with a transition towards cleaner transportation.

Finance → Productive asset → Income → Livelihood

Dual Benefit

ECONOMIC OPPORTUNITY

- Productive income-generating asset
- Income from passenger or goods transport
- Potentially lower operating costs
- Livelihood support through self-employment

GREEN TRANSITION

- Electric mobility for productive use
- Zero tailpipe emissions at point of use
- Reduced dependence on conventional fuels
- A foundation for broader green-transition finance

Mantra Capital intends to develop this segment prudently, with emphasis on vehicle economics, borrower repayment capacity, product quality, after-sales support and the overall viability of the borrower's livelihood. Experience gained from productive-use EV financing can, over time, provide a foundation for a broader green-transition financing proposition.

Technology first by driven

One advantage of being a young financial institution has been the ability to build Mantra Capital's operating architecture without the constraints of legacy systems and processes.

From inception, the Company has adopted contemporary SaaS-based platforms, supported by an automated Loan Origination System (LOS) and Loan Management System (LMS). This was a deliberate founding decision rather than a retrofit. Customer information and documentation are captured digitally, and workflows are system-driven across origination, credit assessment, sanction, disbursement, and loan servicing.

The digital lending journey

Customer - Digital origination - Credit assessment - Sanction - Disbursement - Loan management - Collections - Portfolio analytics

Speed | Consistency | Traceability | Control | Auditability | Scalability

Towards a single source of truth.

The next stage of the Company's technology journey is focused on creating an integrated data environment based on the principle of a Single Source of Truth (SSOT). The objective is to progressively bring together information generated across lending, finance and accounts, collections, human resources and other operating functions into a common and reliable data environment.

A robust SSOT architecture is expected to help management and the Board work from consistent information across the organization, while reducing reconciliation between systems and improving the quality and timeliness of reporting.

“Automation drives execution. Data creates consistency. Analytics strengthens decision-making.”

Growth with Discipline

Mantra Capital's objective is not asset growth alone.

"The quality of growth matters as much as the pace of growth"

ASSET QUALITY

Strong collections, disciplined underwriting, and proactive portfolio monitoring.

COST DISCIPLINE

Improve operating leverage and control operating expenditure as business scales.

COST OF FUNDS

Improve borrowing economics as scale, profitability and credit quality strengthen.

SUSTAINABLE PROFITABILITY

Ensure growth translates progressively into stronger returns on assets and equity.

BRANCH PRODUCTIVITY

Increase AUM, disbursement, and customer reach from existing infrastructure.

FUNDING DIVERSITY

Broaden the lender base and strengthen access to institutional borrowing.

TECHNOLOGY & DATA

Use automation, integrated data and analytics to improve productivity and control.

The Company seeks to build a scalable, profitable and institutionally governed lending franchise while remaining focused on customers and communities where access to finance can create meaningful economic opportunity.

From foundation to Scale

The first 18 months established the operating foundation. The next phase is about extracting greater depth, productivity, and institutional strength from that platform.

Our next phase - scaling the business

Widening Opportunity

Mantra Capital's journey is evolving from building the foundation to deepening the franchise and scaling responsibly. The Company's ambition is to build a differentiated lending institution that combines MSME finance, productive green lending, technology-led execution and disciplined growth to widen access to credit and create sustainable economic opportunity.

" Productive finance. Cleaner mobility. Stronger livelihoods."

Access to Credit – Productive enterprise/ Asset – Income and Livelihood – Wider Economic Opportunities

04 Message from the Chairperson & Managing Director

Dear Shareholders,

It gives me immense pleasure to present the Annual Report of Mantra Capital Limited for the financial year ended March 31, 2026.

The theme of this Annual Report - 'Impact at the Core, Scaling with Purpose' - reflects the institution we are seeking to build. For us, scale is meaningful only when it is accompanied by sound credit discipline, strong governance and a clear understanding of the purpose for which capital is deployed.

1. A Year of Intentional Progress and Institutional Deepening: The financial year 2025-26 has been an important period in the journey of your Company - not merely in terms of business growth, but in the quality of the foundations we have chosen to build for the future. In an environment where financial institutions are often measured by the speed of growth, we have consciously sought to balance opportunities with prudence - deepening our markets, strengthening institutional processes, and building capabilities that can support responsible scale.

During the year, our focus included:

- Refining our operating model and strengthening execution discipline
- Strengthening governance, risk and compliance architecture
- Investing in technology, data and management information capabilities
- Building organizational capacity ahead of the next phase of growth

We believe these investments are important to creating a more resilient, predictable, and scalable financial institution over the long term.

2. Our Core Philosophy: Purpose-Oriented, Disciplined Lending: At the heart of Mantra Capital lies a simple belief credit, when deployed responsibly, can enable enterprise, productive livelihoods and greater economic participation.

Our lending model remained anchored in secured credit structures, supported by disciplined underwriting and an emphasis on repayment capacity.

This approach enables us to serve customers who may be underserved conventional sources of finance while maintaining appropriate risk safeguards. Our business is organized around two core lending themes.

- MSME Finance (principally secured business-purpose lending to small entrepreneurs and enterprises) engaged in productive economic activity.
- Green Loans for Productive Use (currently focused primarily on financing electric three-wheelers used for passenger and cargo livelihoods).

Across both themes, the common principle is that credit should support identifiable productive purpose and be aligned with the borrower's capacity to generate income and repay.

3. A Differentiated Approach to Growth: Depth Before Breadth: One of the defining features of our strategy is a cluster-led approach to expansion. Rather than pursue geographic spread for its own sake, we have focused on building depth within selected markets. This allows us to develop a better understanding of local economies and customer behavior, strengthen relationship-led sourcing and collections, and make more productive use of the branch infrastructure already created.

Our next phase will therefore place greater emphasis on deepening existing locations through higher customer penetration, relevant product extensions, stronger local partnerships and improved operating productivity before Undertaking wider geographic expansion.

What may sometimes appear externally as geographic concentration is, in our view, a deliberate strategy of focused scale within markets where our current participation remains modest relative to the underlying opportunity.

4. Performance in Context: Investing Ahead of Scale: The Company's performance during FY 2025-26 should be viewed in the context of capacity creation and institutional investment.

- Portfolio performance continued to be supported by our secured lending framework and focus on credit and collection discipline.
- We continued to focus on improving branch- level productivity and unit economic as business volumes developed within the existing network.
- The Company made deliberate investment in people, processes, controls, and infrastructure.

Certain capabilities - particularly at the Head Office level - have been built ahead of immediate revenue scale. These include strengthened risk and compliance functions, investment in technology and data capabilities, and enhancement of governance and management reporting frameworks. These investments affect near-term cost structures, but we believe they are necessary to support sustainable growth, improve operating leverage over time and strengthen institutional readiness.

5. Governance: Building Institutional Credibility: As a listed NBFC, your Company recognizes that governance must extend beyond compliance with minimum regulatory requirements. It is central to institutional credibility, stakeholder trust and the ability to access capital responsibly. During the year, we continued to strengthen our governance framework in line with the applicable requirements and expectations of the Reserve Bank of India, the Securities and Exchange Board of India, BSE Limited and other relevant authorities. Key areas of focus included:

- Strengthening Board and committee oversight
- Enhancing risk management and internal control frameworks
- Developing and updating policies across key functions
- Improving compliance tracking, reporting and disclosure processes

We view strong governance not merely as a regulatory obligation, but as a necessary foundation for responsible growth and long-term value creation.

6. Technology and Data: Preparing the Operating Backbone for Scale: Technology has been integral to Mantra Capital's operating model from the outset. Our existing systems support the core lending processes across origination, underwriting, servicing and collections. As the organization scales, the next stage will be to strengthen integration across lending, accounting, HR and management information systems and improve the consistency and availability of data across the organization. A key initiative we intend to undertake in the near future is the development of a Single Source of Truth (SSOT) for critical organizational data. Over time, this should enable stronger portfolio monitoring, clearer visibility into product and branch economics, improved controls and more timely management decision-making.

In the longer term, richer data combined with on-ground customer and community intelligence can also support more refined underwriting and customer assessment. We see this as an important part of building a technology-enabled institution without losing the local understanding that remains central to our lending model.

7. Capital Strategy and Stakeholder Engagement: During the year, the Company continued to engage with lenders, investors, rating agencies and other stakeholders to articulate its business model, risk framework and long-term growth strategy.

Our capital strategy remains focused on:

- Building a diversified and stable liability profile
- Broadening engagement with long-term institutional capital providers
- Maintaining prudent leverage and financial discipline
- Strengthening the operating, governance and data capabilities that support institutional confidence

As our operating track record matures and our governance and information systems become stronger, we expect these improvements to contribute progressively to stakeholder confidence and the quality of our capital relationships.

8. Impact at the Core: For Mantra, impact begins with the purpose of the credit we provide. We focus on financing that supports enterprises, productive livelihoods and the transition to cleaner mobility. Our work in MSME finance seeks to bring formal credit closer to small businesses and entrepreneurs engaged in productive activity. In green mobility, financing electric three-wheelers used for passenger and cargo transportation allows us to support cleaner mobility while financing an asset that directly generates income for the borrower. As the Company scales, we intend to progressively strengthen the measurement and reporting of the economic, social and environmental outcomes arising from our lending activities. This will help us understand our impact more rigorously and, over time, deepen our engagement with stakeholders whose capital is aligned with productive finance, financial inclusion and environmental transition.

9. People and Culture: Building for the Future: Our people remain central to the institution we are building. During the year, we continued to strengthen organizational structure, reporting clarity, performance management and accountability. We are seeking to build a culture rooted in “Professionalism with Purpose and Care” one that combines ownership and execution discipline with respect for customers, colleagues and the communities in which we operate. As we scale, the quality of our people, the clarity of accountability and the strength of this culture will remain important determinants of our ability to execute consistently.

10. Outlook: The Next Phase of Disciplined Growth: The work undertaken during FY 2025 - 26 has strengthened the platform from which the Company can pursue its next phase of growth. We enter the coming period with:

- A portfolio anchored in secured lending, with continued focus on asset quality and repayment discipline
- A clearly defined strategy of deepening existing markets before wider expansion
- Strengthened governance, systems and organizational capability
- A clearer roadmap for technology, data and capital development

Our focus will remain on scaling the core lending businesses responsibly, improving operating productivity, strengthening portfolio quality, building data and analytical capabilities, and expanding our contribution to productive and green finance. The opportunity before us is significant. Our responsibility is to pursue it with discipline, patience and an appropriate balance between growth, risk and institutional capability.

11. Acknowledgements: I would like to express my sincere gratitude to our Board of Directors for their guidance and oversight; our employees for their commitment and ownership; and our customers, lenders, shareholders, investors and business partners for the trust they continue to place in Mantra Capital. We also acknowledge the regulatory and institutional framework provided by the Reserve Bank of India, the Securities and Exchange Board of India, BSE Limited and other authorities within which we operate

Closing Reflections: At Mantra Capital, we are not merely seeking to build a larger lending business. We are building an institution grounded in discipline, responsibility and purpose. Our journey is guided by the conviction that capital, when deployed with integrity, insight and a clear productive purpose, can create sustainable financial value while strengthening livelihoods and economic participation. We remain committed to this path and look forward to your continued support as we build a resilient and future-ready financial institution.

05 Message from the Chief Executive Officer

FY 2025-26 was an important year in the evolution of Mantra Capital. It was a year of building - building our presence, strengthening our capabilities, embedding our technological platform and, most importantly, creating the foundations from which the Company can scale responsibly and with purpose.

As a relatively young lending institution, we have had the opportunity to build differently. Rather than inherit legacy structures, we have been able to shape our processes, technology and operating model around the customer we seek to serve small entrepreneurs and individuals whose livelihoods depend on timely and appropriate access to credit.

Our business is anchored around two core lending themes - MSME Finance and Green Loans for Productive Use. Both are directed towards a common objective: enabling customers to acquire, protect or deploy productive assets that can strengthen incomes, support enterprise and improve economic resilience.

In MSME Finance, our focus remains on small businesses and entrepreneurs who are often underserved by traditional sources of credit despite having viable businesses and tangible economic activity. Our approach combines local market understanding, disciplined underwriting and secure lending structures, with the objective of supporting growth without compromising credit quality. Our Green Loans business applies the same philosophy to mobility. By financing electric three-wheelers used for passenger and cargo transportation, we support the transition to cleaner mobility while financing an asset that directly contributes to the borrower's livelihood. For Mantra Capital, green finance and livelihood finance are therefore not separate ideas - they increasingly converge.

Impact at the Core

For Mantra, impact begins with the purpose of the credit we provide. We focus on financing that supports enterprises, productive livelihoods and the transition to cleaner mobility. As the Company scales, we intend to progressively strengthen the measurement and reporting of the economic, social and environmental outcomes arising from our lending activities.

Building Depth Before Breadth

During our initial phase of growth, we established a presence across four regions and built an 20-branch network. Having created this operating footprint, the next phase will increasingly be about deepening these markets rather than simply adding locations.

We see significant opportunities within our existing offices - through higher customer penetration, expansion of relevant product lines, appropriate flexibility in repayment structures, stronger local partnerships and greater productivity from the infrastructure already created.

This approach reflects an important operating principle for us: growth must be accompanied by discipline. We intend to scale where we have the market understanding, operating capability and credit controls to do so responsibly.

Technology as an Operating Backbone

Technology has been integral to Mantra Capital from the outset and will play an increasingly important role as the organization scales. Our existing technology platform supports the core lending processes across origination, underwriting, servicing and collections, giving us a strong base on which to build.

The next stage is to strengthen the integration of our systems and improve the flow of information across lending, finance, operations and management reporting. A key initiative we intend to undertake in the near future is the development of a Single Source of Truth (SSOT) for the organization - bringing together critical data from across our operating systems into a consistent and reliable management information framework. As our portfolio and geographic presence grow, timely access to accurate and consistent data will become increasingly important for monitoring portfolio performance, understanding product and branch economics, strengthening controls and enabling better management decisions. Our objective is to progressively build a technology and data architecture that gives the organization greater visibility, control and scalability.

As our Portfolio and geographic presence grow, timely access to accurate and consistent data will become increasingly important for monitoring portfolio performance, understanding product and branch economics, strengthening controls and enabling better management decisions. Our objective is to progressively build a technology and data architecture that give the organization greater visibility, control and scalability.

Growth with Discipline

For NBFC, growth cannot be measured by disbursements or Assets Under Management alone. Asset quality, collection efficiency, cost of funds, operating productivity and portfolio profitability are equally important indicators of institutional health.

Accordingly, our emphasis is increasing on the quality of growth. We are strengthening portfolio monitoring, sharpening accountability across our branch network and building greater visibility into the economics of individual products, geographies and customers. As the portfolio matures, maintaining strong credit discipline while improving operating leverage will remain a central management priority.

Staying Close to the Customer

Technology can improve efficiency, consistency and control, but lending ultimately depends upon understanding people, enterprises and local economies. Many of our customers operate businesses where conventional financial records tell only part of the story. Their enterprises may be small, but the economic activity surrounding them can be significant and deeply embedded in their communities. This is why our branch network and local market intelligence remain important components of our operating model. Over time, we intend to combine that local understanding with richer data and stronger analytical capabilities so that we can assess risk more accurately, respond more appropriately to customer needs and extend credit to a wider segment of deserving borrowers.

The Next Phase: The foundations created during FY 2025-26 give us confidence as we enter the next stage of Mantra Capital's development. Our priorities are clear: deepen our existing markets, expand relevant products, strengthen asset quality, improve operating productivity, build our technology and data capabilities, and steadily reduce the cost and complexity of delivering credit. We also recognize that building a financial institution is a long-term undertaking. It requires patience, discipline, strong governance and the ability to balance opportunity with prudence. Our ambition is therefore not merely to become a larger lender, but to build a scalable, technology-enabled and responsible financial institution that can bring productive capital closer to the people and enterprises that need it most. I would like to thank our customers for placing their trust in us; our employees for the energy, resilience and ownership with which they have helped build a young institution; our lenders, shareholders and business partners for their continued support; and the Board for its guidance and oversight. As we enter the coming year, we do so with a stronger platform, a clearer operating model and considerable opportunity ahead of us. Our task now is to convert that opportunity into sustainable, disciplined and meaningful growth - scaling with purpose while keeping impact at the core of what we do.

2. Economic Overview and Industry Structure

During Financial Year 2025–2026, the Indian economy remained resilient despite global uncertainties, geopolitical tensions, volatile commodity prices, inflationary pressures and supply chain disruptions. Strong domestic consumption, continued public infrastructure spending, stable tax collections, growth in manufacturing and services, and improving investment sentiment supported overall economic activity.

The financial services sector, particularly the NBFC industry, continued to play an important role in credit delivery to underserved and emerging borrower segments. Demand remained steady across MSME finance, vehicle finance, small business lending, affordable credit products and retail finance. Tier 2 and Tier 3 markets continued to emerge as important growth centers due to increasing formalization, rising entrepreneurial activity, improving digital infrastructure, growing financial awareness and limited penetration of traditional banking channels.

NBFCs continue to be important enablers of financial inclusion by serving self-employed individuals, micro and small enterprises, first-time borrowers and customers outside the formal banking ecosystem. During the year, the regulatory environment for NBFCs continued to evolve with increased emphasis on governance, risk management, customer protection, digital lending compliance, liquidity management and enhanced disclosures.

TO THE MEMBERS OF

MANTRA CAPITAL LIMITED

(Formerly known as SAVANI FINANCIALS LIMITED)

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit of the financial statement in accordance with the Standards on Auditing (SAs) specified under Section 143(10) of the Act. Our responsibilities under those SAs are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report.

We are independent of the Company in accordance with the Code of Ethics issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements under the provisions of the Act and the Rules thereunder, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the Code of Ethics.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion on the financial statement.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters ("KAM") are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the standalone financial statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the standalone financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Description of Key Audit Matters

The key audit matters	How our audit addressed the matter
1. Lending Activity During the year ended 31st March 2026, the Company has significantly expanded its lending operations, including vehicle loans and business loans. The substantial increase in loan disbursements and the complexity involved in recognition, measurement, and impairment assessment under applicable accounting standards resulted in this area being identified as a Key Audit Matter.	Principal Audit Procedures: Our audit included the following substantive procedures: • Evaluated the design and operating effectiveness of key controls over loan origination, approval, and disbursement processes. • Tested a sample of loan transactions to verify accuracy of recognition and documentation. • Assessed compliance with applicable accounting standards for loan classification and measurement. • Reviewed the methodology and assumptions used in impairment (ECL) calculations. • Performed substantive analytical procedures on loan portfolio growth and interest income. • Verified adequacy and appropriateness of disclosures in the financial statements.
2. Migration of Loan Management System During the year, the Company migrated its loan management system from the old platform to a new system. Such migration involves significant risks relating to data completeness, accuracy, and integrity, as well as potential impact on interest computation, loan balances and financial reporting. Given the volume of data migrated and reliance on IT systems, this area required significant auditor attention and was therefore considered a Key Audit Matter.	Principal Audit Procedures: Our audit included the following substantive procedures: • Obtained an understanding of the system migration process and evaluated the design and implementation of key controls over data migration. • Tested the operating effectiveness of controls, including reconciliation between old and new systems. • Performed data validation procedures to assess completeness and accuracy of migrated data. • Assessed relevant change management, and audit trails. • Recomputed interest income and EMI schedules on a sample basis post-change management, and audit trails. • Evaluated key reports and calculations generated from the new system. • Reviewed the adequacy of related disclosures in the financial statements.
3. Borrowings including Unlisted Non-Convertible Debentures (NCDs) The Company has significant borrowings, including unlisted non-convertible debentures (NCDs), which involve complex accounting considerations relating to	Principal Audit Procedures: Our audit included the following substantive procedures:

recognition, classification and measurement, including application of the effective interest rate (EIR) method under Ind AS 109. Additionally, compliance with covenants, regulatory requirements, and extensive disclosure requirements under Ind AS 107 increases the level of judgement and audit focus in this area. Accordingly, this has been identified as a Key Audit Matter.	• Obtained an understanding of the borrowing processes and evaluated the design and operating effectiveness of relevant internal controls. • Reviewed borrowing agreements and debenture trust deeds to understand key terms and conditions. • Assessed the appropriateness of accounting treatment, including application of the EIR method in accordance with Ind AS 109. • Tested interest expense calculations and accruals on a sample basis. • Obtained external confirmations from lenders and debenture trustees. • Evaluated compliance with financial covenants and regulatory requirements. • Assessed the adequacy and appropriateness of disclosures in the financial statements in accordance with Ind AS 107 and Ind AS 32.

Information Other than the financial statements and Auditor's Report thereon

The Company's Board of Directors are responsible for the preparation of the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the Board's Report including Annexures to Board's Report, Management Discussion and Analysis, Report on Corporate Governance, Business Responsibility Report, but does not include the financial statements and our auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained during the course of our audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

The Company's Board of Directors are responsible for the matters stated in Section 134(5) of the Act with respect to the preparation of these financial statements that give a true and fair view of the financial position, financial performance, total comprehensive income, changes in equity and cash flows of the Company in accordance with the Ind AS and other accounting principles generally accepted in India, including the Indian Accounting Standards specified under Section 133 of the Act read with Rule 7 of the Companies (Accounts) Rules, 2014. This responsibility also includes maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding of the assets of the Company and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the financial statements that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management and Board of Directors are responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

The Board of Directors are also responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not guaranteed that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under Section 143(3)(i) of the Act, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the company has adequate internal financial controls with reference to the financial statements in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

Materiality is the magnitude of misstatements in the financial statements that, individually or in aggregate, makes it probable that the economic decisions of a reasonably knowledgeable user of the financial statements may be influenced. We consider quantitative materiality and qualitative factors in (i) planning the scope of our work and in evaluating the results of our work; and (ii) evaluating the effect of any identified misstatements in the financial statements.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

Report on Other Legal and Regulatory Requirements

1. As required by the Companies (Auditor's Report) Order, 2020 ("the Order") issued by the Central Government of India in terms of sub-section (11) of section 143 of the Act, we give in "Annexure A" a statement on the matters specified in paragraphs 3 and 4 of the Order, to the extent applicable.

We have audited the internal financial reporting of MANTRA CAPITAL LIMITED (Formerly known as SAVANI FINANCIALS LIMITED) ("the Company") as of 31st March 2026 in conjunction with our audit of the financial statements of the Company for the year ended on that date.

Management's Responsibility for Internal Financial Controls

The Company's management is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal financial control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India ("ICAI").

These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to company's policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Act.

Auditors' Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's internal financial controls over financial reporting based on our audit. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls over financial reporting was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls system over financial reporting and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls over financial reporting included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Company's internal financial controls system over financial reporting.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting

A company's internal financial control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls over financial reporting to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control over financial reporting may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Material Accounting Policies

2.1 Presentation of financial statements:

a) Basis of Preparation:

The Company prepares its financial statements to comply with Division III of Schedule III to the Companies Act, 2013 (which provides general directions for the preparation of financial statements of a Non-Banking Financial Company) (NBFC) to comply with the requirements of Ind AS, the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015 and relevant amendment rules issued thereafter.

These financial statements have been prepared and presented on a going-concern basis, under the historical cost convention basis of accounting excepting values of the financial assets and financial liabilities that are measured at fair value at the end of each reporting period, as stated in the accounting policies set out below.

The financial statements do not provide disclosures where the information resulting from that disclosure is not material, even if the financial statements provide disclosures of all items required by law even if the information resulting from that disclosure is considered immaterial.

The financial statements are authorised for issue by the Board of Directors of the Company at their meeting held on 24th April, 2026.

b) Current and non-current classification

The Company presents its Balance Sheet in the order of liquidity as per the requirement of the Companies Act, 2013. It does not require to classify its assets or liabilities under the headings of current or non-current.

The company generally reports financial assets and financial liabilities on a gross basis in the balance sheet. There are offset and netted only when specifically permits the same or it has an unconditional legally enforceable right to offset the recognised amounts without being contingent on a future event. Similarly, the company only offsets assets and liabilities on a net basis when permitted by Ind AS specifically, unless they are material in nature.

c) Use of Estimates and Judgements

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with the Ind AS requires the management to make judgements, estimates and assumptions about the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities, revenue and expenses. These estimates are based on historical experience and other factors that are considered to be relevant and reasonable.

The estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Actual results may differ from those estimates and underlying assumptions are recognised in the period in which the estimates are revised.

The few critical estimations and judgements made in applying accounting policies are:

i. Income Taxes:

Significant judgement is required in determining the amount for income tax expenses. There are many transactions and positions for which the ultimate tax determination is uncertain during the ordinary course of business, where the final tax outcome is different from the amount initially recorded, such differences will impact the income tax and deferred tax provisions in the period in which such determination is made.

ii. Impairment of Non-Financial Assets:

The Company assesses at each reporting date whether there is an indication that an asset may be impaired. If any such indication exists, or when annual impairment testing for an asset is required, the Company estimates the asset's recoverable amount. An asset's recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's fair value less costs of disposal and its value in use. It is determined for an individual asset, unless the asset does not generate cash inflows that are largely independent of those from other assets or groups of assets. Where a carrying amount of an asset exceeds its recoverable amount, the asset is considered as impaired and is written down to its recoverable amount. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessment of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset. In determining fair value, less costs of disposal, recent market transactions are taken into account. If no such transactions can be identified, an appropriate valuation model is used.

iii. Impairment of Financial Assets

The impairment provisions for financial assets are based on assumptions about risk of default and expected loss rates. The Company uses judgement in making these assumptions and selecting the inputs to the impairment calculation, based on Company's past history, existing market conditions as well as forward looking estimates at the end of each reporting period.

iv. Fair Value Measurement of Financial Instrument

Financial instruments are valued at quoted prices where fair values are ascertainable from an active market. When the fair value of financial assets and liabilities are not quoted prices in active markets, their fair value is measured based on appropriate valuation techniques, including the discounted cash flow model. The inputs to these models are taken from observable market sources, but where this is not feasible, a degree of judgement is required in establishing fair values. Judgements include considerations of inputs such as credit risk and volatility. Changes in assumptions about these factors could affect the reported fair value of financial instruments.

v. Deferred Tax

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognised for temporary differences arising between the tax base of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts. Deferred income tax is measured using the tax rates and tax laws enacted as at the reporting date, which are expected to apply when the related deferred tax asset is realised or the deferred tax liability is settled.

Deferred tax assets are recognised only to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profits will be available against which temporary differences, unused tax losses and unused tax credits can be utilised. Deferred tax assets are offset when there is a legally enforceable right to offset current tax assets against current tax liabilities.

Recognition of deferred tax assets depends on availability of future taxable profit against which these carried forward losses can be utilised. However, the management has not recognised deferred tax asset on carry forward losses during the FY 2025-26.

vi. Recognition and Measurement of Provisions and Contingencies

Provisions are recognised when the enterprise has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of past events, and it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation. When the effect of time value of money is material, the amount of the obligation is determined by discounting the expected cash flows at a pre-tax rate reflecting the current market assessments of the time value of money. The expense relating to any provision is presented in the statement of profit and loss.

A contingent liability is a possible obligation that arises from past events whose existence will be confirmed only by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events beyond the control of the Company or a present obligation that arises from past events but is not recognised because it is not probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation. The Company does not recognize a contingent liability but discloses its existence in the financial statement.

Contingent assets are not recognised in financial statements since this may result in the recognition of income that may never be realised. However, when the realisation of income is virtually certain, then the related asset is not a contingent asset and is recognised.

2.2 Property, Plant & Equipment (PPE)

i. Recognition and measurement

All other items of PPE are measured at cost less accumulated depreciation and any accumulated impairment losses, if any.

The cost of an item of PPE comprises:

- a) its purchase price, including import duties and non-refundable purchase taxes, after deducting trade discounts.
- b) any costs directly attributable to bringing the asset to the location and condition necessary for it to be capable of operating in the manner intended by management.

Income and expenses related to the incidental operations, which are necessary in the manner intended by management, are recognised in profit or loss. Any gain or loss on disposal of an item of PPE is recognised in profit and loss.

Right of Use Assets (ROU):

The company has a lease records an ROU asset for each lease with an original term greater than 12 months. ROU assets, which are not classified as finance lease, are recognised in the financial liabilities. Depreciation on ROU asset is being charged on basis of lease term.

ii. Subsequent expenditure

Subsequent expenditure is capitalised only if it is probable that the future economic benefits associated with the expenditure will flow to the Company.

iii. Depreciation

Depreciable amount for assets is the cost of an asset, or other amount substituted for cost, less its estimated residual value.

Depreciation on PPE other than leasehold land has been provided based on useful life of the assets in accordance with Schedule II to the Companies Act, 2013, on Straight Line Method.

Depreciation methods, useful lives and residual values are reviewed at each reporting date and adjusted if appropriate.

Profit and loss on disposals are determined by comparing proceeds with carrying amount. These are included in statement of profit and loss.

2.3 Intangible assets

Intangible assets comprise application software purchased, which are not an integral part of the related hardware and are amortized on a straight-line basis over a period of 3 years, which is management's best estimate of the period during which economic benefits will be derived from their use.

Subsequent expenditure is capitalized only when it increases the future economic benefits embodied in the specific asset to which it relates.

Intangible assets under development:

Intangible assets not ready for its intended use on the date of the Balance Sheet are disclosed as "Intangible assets under development". Accordingly, amortization is not charged on the same.

2.4 Leases

i. The Company assesses whether a contract contains a lease at inception of contract. A contract is, or contains, a lease if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration. Consistent with a contract conveys to the company (i) the contract involves the use of an identified asset (ii) the company has substantially all of the economic benefits from use of the asset through the period of use and (iii) the company has the right to direct the use of the asset.

At the commencement of the lease, the company recognizes a right-of-use asset (ROU) and a corresponding lease liability for all leases in which it is a lessee, except for leases with a term of twelve months or less (short-term leases) and low value leases. For these short-term and low value leases, the Company recognizes lease payments as an operating expense on a straight-line basis over the term of the lease.

Certain lease arrangements include the options to extend or terminate the lease before the end of the lease term. ROU assets and lease liabilities includes these options when it is reasonably certain that they will be exercised.

The right-of-use assets are initially recognized at cost. The cost comprises the initial amount of the lease liability adjusted for any lease payments made at or prior to the commencement date of the lease plus any initial direct costs and impairment losses.

ii. Short-term leases and leases of low-value assets

The Company applies the short-term lease recognition exemption to its short-term leases of properties (i.e. those leases that have a lease term of 12 months or less from the commencement date and do not contain a purchase option). It also applies the low value asset lease recognition exemption to leases of office equipment that are considered to be low value. Lease payments on short-term leases and those of low-value assets are recognised as expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

2.5 Fair Value Measurements

The Company has established control framework with respect to the measurement of fair values. The management regularly reviews significant unobservable inputs and valuation adjustments.

All financial assets and financial liabilities for which fair value is measured or disclosed in financial statements are categorised within the fair value hierarchy, described as follows, based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole:

Level 1 – Quoted (unadjusted) market prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities;

Level 2 – Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is directly or indirectly observable; or

Level 3 – Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is unobservable.

The Company recognises transfers between levels of the fair value hierarchy at the end of the reporting period during which the change has occurred.

2.6 Financial Instruments

A financial instrument is any contract that gives rise to a financial asset of one entity and a financial liability or equity instrument of another entity. The Company recognises a financial asset or financial liability in its balance sheet only when the entity becomes party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

Financial Assets

A financial asset inter-alia includes any asset that is cash, equity instrument of another entity and a financial asset or financial instrument of another entity. The Company recognises a financial asset or financial liability in its balance sheet only when the entity becomes party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

Initial recognition and measurement

All financial assets are recognised initially at fair value including transaction costs that are attributable to the acquisition of the financial assets except in the case of financial assets recorded at FVTPL where the transaction costs are recorded in the Statement of Profit & Loss as an expense.

Subsequent measurement

For purposes of subsequent measurement financial assets are classified in three categories:

- Financial asset measured at amortised cost
- Financial asset measured at fair value through OCI
- Financial asset measured at fair value through profit or loss

Financial assets measured at amortised cost

Financial assets are measured at amortised cost if the financial asset is held within a business model whose objective is to hold financial assets in order to collect contractual cash flows, and the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding. The losses arising from impairment are recognised in the statement of profit and loss.

Financial assets measured at fair value through OCI (FVTOCI)

Financial assets are measured at fair value through comprehensive income if the financial asset is held within a business model whose objective is achieved by both collecting contractual cash flows and selling financial assets and the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding. At initial recognition, an irrevocable election is made on an instrument-by-instrument basis to designate investments in equity instruments at FVTOCI. There is no subsequent reclassification of interest income, impairment losses and reversal of such losses or foreign exchange gains and losses in the income statement. On derecognition of the financial assets other than equity instruments, cumulative gain or loss previously recognised in OCI is reclassified to income statements.

Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss (FVTPL)

Any financial asset that does not meet the criteria for classification as at amortised cost or as financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income is classified as financial assets at fair value through profit or loss. Further, financial assets held for trading and financial assets designated upon initial recognition at fair value through profit or loss are fair valued with all the changes recognized in the statement of profit and loss.

De-recognition of financial assets

The Company derecognizes a financial asset only when the contractual rights to the cash flow from the asset expire, or it transfers the financial asset and substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of the asset to another entity. If the Company neither transfers nor retains substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of the transferred assets, the Company recognizes its retained interest in the asset and an associated liability for amounts it may have to pay. If the Company retains substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of a transferred financial asset, the Company continues to recognise the financial asset and also recognises a collateralised borrowing for the proceeds received.

Impairment of financial assets

The Company records allowance for expected credit losses (ECL) for all loans, other debt financial assets not at fair value through profit or loss (FVTPL), together with financial guarantee contracts, collectively referred to as 'financial instruments'. Equity instruments are not subject to impairment under Ind AS 109.

The ECL allowance is based on the credit losses expected to arise over the life of the asset (lifetime expected credit loss), unless there has been no significant increase in credit risk since origination, in which case the allowance is based on the 12-month expected credit loss. Lifetime ECL represents the expected credit losses resulting from all possible default events over the expected life of a financial instrument, whereas 12-month ECL represents the portion of lifetime ECL arising from default events that are possible within 12 months after the reporting date.

Both lifetime ECL and 12-month ECL are calculated on either an individual basis or a collective basis. The Company has established a policy to assess at the end of each reporting period whether the credit risk of a financial instrument has increased significantly since initial recognition by considering the change in the risk of default occurring over the remaining life of the financial instrument. The assessment of significant increase in credit risk is carried out at the borrower level. Where a borrower has multiple facilities with different past due statuses, the highest days past due (DPD) applicable to any facility is considered for all facilities of that borrower.

Based on the above, the Company categorises its loans into Stage 1, Stage 2 and Stage 3 as described below:

Stage 1

All exposures where there has not been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, or that have low credit risk at the reporting date and are not credit impaired upon recognition, are classified under this stage. The Company classifies all standard loans and advances within the bucket of 0-30 days under this category. Stage 1 loans also include facilities where the credit risk has improved, and the loan has been reclassified from Stage 2.

Stage 2

All exposures where there has been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition but are not credit impaired are classified under this stage. The Company classifies assets past due for 31-90 days are classified under this stage. The Company uses the following criteria for assessing significant increase to Stage 2:

- a) financial assets past due between 31-90 days.
- b) The Company becomes aware of any deterioration in the financial condition and reputation of the obligor, which management believes may lead to a significant deterioration in credit risk.

Stage 3

All exposures assessed as credit impaired, where one or more events having a detrimental impact on the estimated future cash flows have occurred, are classified under this stage. For exposures that have become credit impaired, lifetime ECL is recognised, and interest revenue is calculated by applying the effective interest rate to the amortised cost (net of provision) rather than the gross carrying amount. Stage 3 includes cases where contractual payments of principal and/or interest are past due for more than 90 days. Non-Performing Asset (NPA) classification is carried out in line with the Reserve Bank of India Master Circular on Prudential Norms on Income Recognition, Asset Classification and Provisioning pertaining to Advances and related clarifications dated November 12, 2021 and February 15, 2022.

The mechanics of ECL

The Company calculates ECL based on probability-weighted scenarios to measure expected cash shortfalls, discounted at an approximation to the Effective Interest Rate (EIR). A cash shortfall represents the difference between the cash flows that are due to the Company and the cash flows that the Company expects to receive.

The mechanics of the ECL calculations are outlined below, and the key elements are as follows:

Probability of Default (PD)

Probability of Default (PD) is defined as the likelihood of default over a particular time horizon. The PD of an obligor is a fundamental input in the measurement of expected credit losses.

Exposure at Default (EAD)

EAD represents gross exposure under a facility upon default of an obligor. For the purpose of the ECL computation, the amortised principal together with accrued interest is considered as EAD.

Loss Given Default (LGD)

Loss Given Default (LGD) is an estimate of the loss arising in the event of default at a given point in time. It is based on the difference between the contractual cash flows due and the cash flows that the lender expects to receive, including recoveries from the realisation of collateral. LGD is generally expressed as a percentage of EAD.

Presentation of allowance for ECL in the Balance Sheet

Loss allowance of ECL is presented in the Balance Sheet as a deduction from the gross carrying amount of the asset measured at amortized cost.

Reposessed Assets

In case of Vehicle Loan/Loan Against Property (LAP), collateral underlying the loan may be reposessed through legal processes such as SARFAESI proceedings, arbitration, etc. In such cases, the property value is assessed based on the existing valuation available for NPA accounts or through a fresh valuation conducted after repossession. Based on the assessed valuation, additional provisioning is made to the extent of any shortfall in the value of the asset not covered by the existing ECL provision.

Further, the auction or sale of such reposessed properties is conducted in accordance with the applicable legal process and internal collection guidelines/manuals. Upon sale of the property, any ECL shortfall or surplus based on actual realisation is appropriately accounted.

Write-off

The Company reduces the gross carrying amount of a financial asset when it has no reasonable expectation of recovering the financial asset, either in full or in part. This is generally the case when the Company determines that the borrower does not have sufficient assets or sources of income to generate adequate cash flows for repayment of the amounts proposed to be written off. However, financial assets written off may continue to be subject to recovery and enforcement actions under the Company's recovery procedures, after considering legal advice wherever appropriate. Any write-offs and subsequent recoveries relating to such loans are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss under the appropriate head.

Financial liabilities and Equity:

Classification as debt or Equity

Financial liabilities and equity instruments issued by the Company are classified according to the substance of the contractual arrangements entered into and the definitions of a financial liability and equity instruments.

Equity instruments

An equity instrument is any contract that evidences a residual interest in the assets of the Company after deducting all of its liabilities. Equity instruments are recorded at the proceeds received, net of direct issue costs.

Financial liabilities

The Company's financial liabilities include loans and borrowings including trade payables, accrued expenses and other payables.

Initial Recognition and measurement

All financial liabilities at initial recognition are classified as financial liabilities at amortised cost or financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss, as appropriate. Loans and Borrowings and Payables are net of directly attributable transaction costs. Any difference between the proceeds (net of transaction costs) and the fair value at initial recognition is recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss or adjusted in the amortization schedule of the liability where recorded at amortised cost, if another standard permits inclusion of such cost in the carrying amount of an asset over the period of the borrowings using the effective rate of interest.

Subsequent measurement

After initial recognition, all financial liabilities are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the EIR.

Any gains or losses arising on derecognition of liabilities are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Derecognition

A financial liability is derecognised when the obligation under the liability is discharged/cancelled/expired. When an existing financial liability is replaced by another from the same lender on substantially different terms, or the terms of an existing liability are substantially modified, such an exchange or modification is treated as the derecognition of the original liability and the recognition of a new liability. The difference in the respective carrying amounts is recognised in the statement of profit and loss.

Offsetting of financial instruments

Financial assets and liabilities are offset and net amount is reported if there is currently enforceable legal right to offset the recognised amounts and there is intention to settle on a net basis, to realise assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously.

Functional and Presentation Currency

The financial statements are presented in Indian Rupees, which is the functional currency of the Company and the currency of the primary economic environment in which the Company operates.

2.7 Impairment of Non-Financial Assets

Property, plant or equipment and intangible assets with finite life are evaluated for recoverability whenever there is any indication that their carrying amount may not be recoverable. If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount (i.e. higher of the fair value less cost to sell and the value in use) is determined on an individual asset basis unless the asset does not generate cash flows that are largely independent of those from other assets.

The Carrying Amount of Assets is reviewed at each Balance Sheet date if there is any indication of impairment based on internal/external factors. An asset is treated as impaired when the carrying cost of assets exceeds its recoverable value. An impairment loss, if any, is charged to Statement of Profit and Loss in the year in which an asset is identified as impaired. Reversal of impairment for losses recognized in prior years is recorded when there is an indication that the impairment losses recognized for the assets no longer exists or have decreased.

2.8 Share Capital and Securities PremiumOrdinary Shares

Proceeds from issuance of ordinary shares are classified as share capital in equity. Incremental costs directly attributable to the issue of new shares are shown in equity as a deduction net of tax from the proceeds. Par value of the equity share is recorded as share capital and the amount received in excess of the par value is classified as share premium.

Securities Premium

Balance of Securities premium consist of issue of share over its face value. The balance has been utilised for issue of shares as per provisions of Section 52 of the Companies Act, 2013 and adjusted against expenses incurred against issue of Right Equity Shares.

2.9 Cash Flows and Cash and Cash Equivalents

Statement of cash flows is prepared in accordance with the indirect method prescribed in Ind AS 7 "Statement of Cash Flows". For the purpose of presentation in the statement of cash flows, Cash and cash equivalents include cash on hand, other short term highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less that are readily convertible to known amounts of cash and which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value.

2.10 Income Tax

Income tax expense represents the sum of tax currently payable and deferred tax. Tax is recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss, except to the extent that it relates to the items recognised directly in equity or in other comprehensive income.

Current Income Tax

Current tax includes provision for Income Tax computed under special provision (i.e. Minimum Alternate Tax) or normal provision of Income Tax Act provisions. Current income tax assets and liabilities are measured at the amount expected to be recovered from or paid to the taxation authorities on the basis of estimated taxable income. The tax rates and tax laws used to compute the amount are those that are enacted or substantively enacted, at the reporting date.

Deferred Tax

Deferred tax is recognised on differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities in the financial statements and their corresponding tax bases (known as temporary differences). Deferred tax liabilities are recognised for all temporary differences that are expected to increase taxable profit in the future.

Deferred tax assets are recognised for all temporary differences that are expected to reduce taxable profit in the future, and any unused tax losses or unused tax credits. Deferred tax assets are measured at the highest amount that, on the basis of current or estimated future taxable profit, is more likely than not to be recovered. The net carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at each reporting date and is adjusted to reflect the current assessment of future taxable profits. Any adjustments are recognised in profit or loss.

Deferred tax is calculated at the tax rates that are expected to apply to the taxable profit (tax loss) of the period in which it expects the deferred tax asset to be realised or the deferred tax liability to be settled, based on tax rates that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset when there is a legally enforceable right to set off current tax assets against current tax liabilities and when they relate to income taxes levied by the same taxation authority and the Company intends to settle its current tax assets and liabilities on a net basis.

In the event of unabsorbed depreciation or carry forward of losses, deferred tax assets are recognized to the extent that it is probable that sufficient future taxable income will be available to realise such assets.

A deferred tax asset is recognised to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profits will be available against which the temporary difference can be utilised.

2.11 Revenue Recognition

Revenue is recognised to the extent that it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the Company and the revenue can be reliably measured regardless of when the payment is being made. Revenue is measured at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable, taking into account contractually defined terms of payment and excluding taxes or duties collected on behalf of the government.

The specific recognition criteria described below must also be met before the revenue is recognised:

Interest income on financial assets measured at amortised cost is recognised on a time proportion basis. Interest income on financial assets subsequently measured at fair value through profit or loss (FVTPL) is recognised at the contractual rate of interest. However, in respect of non-performing assets (NPAs), interest in income on loans and advances is recognised on a cash basis in accordance with the applicable RBI guidelines.

The Company recognises income on recoveries of financial assets written off on realisation or when the right to receive the same without any uncertainties of recovery is established.

Processing fees & Documentation charges on loans are recognised upfront at the time of loan disbursement.

Dividend income is recognised when the Company's right to receive dividend is established.

Loan fees are collected upfront from customers as a separate charge and are not deducted from the disbursed loan amount. Accordingly, such fees are recognised in full upon the establishment of the right to receive the consideration.

The Company designates certain financial assets for subsequent measurement at fair value through profit or loss (FVTPL). The Company recognises gains on fair value of financial assets measured at FVTPL and realised gains on derecognition of financial asset measured at FVTPL on net basis in profit or loss.

Fees and commission income is recognised when the Company satisfies the performance obligation, at transaction price when the consideration received or receivable based on a five-step model as set out in Ind AS 115 "Revenue from Contracts with Customers".

Other operating income are recognized as revenue when the Company satisfies its performance obligation and the right to receive consideration becomes unconditional, in accordance with the principles of Ind AS 115 "Revenue from Contracts with Customers".

Contract liabilities primarily relate to consideration received in advance from customers, for which the performance obligation is yet to be satisfied.

2.12 Retirement and other employee benefits

i. The Company operates both defined benefit scheme and defined contribution scheme for its employees.

a) Defined Contribution Scheme

The Company operates defined contribution schemes such as Provident Fund and Employees' State Insurance (ESI) for eligible employees who have opted for these benefits. Under these schemes, both the employee and the Company contribute monthly at prescribed rates. The Company's obligation pertains to its contribution amount and the employee's contribution. The Company's contribution is recognised as an expense in the period in which the related employee services are rendered.

Any unpaid contribution outstanding as at the Balance Sheet date is recognised as a liability after adjusting contributions already paid. Conversely, where contributions paid exceed the amount for services rendered before the Balance Sheet date, the excess is recognised as an asset to the extent that it will result in a reduction of future contributions or a cash refund.

b) Defined Benefit Schemes

The Company provides for gratuity a defined benefit retirement plan covering all eligible employees. The plan provides for lump sum payments to employees upon death while in employment or on separation from employment after completion of the stipulated years of service, in accordance with the provisions of the Payment of Gratuity Act, 1972.

The present value of the gratuity obligation under the defined benefit plan is determined based on an actuarial valuation carried out by an independent actuary at each Balance Sheet date using the Projected Unit Credit Method. This method recognises each period of service as giving rise to a separate unit of employee benefit entitlement and measures each unit separately to build up the final obligation.

All expenses represented by current service cost, past service cost, if any, and net interest on the defined benefit liability/(asset) are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss. Remeasurements of the net defined benefit liability/(asset) comprising actuarial gains and losses (excluding interest on the net defined benefit liability/(asset)) are recognised in Other Comprehensive Income (OCI). Such remeasurements are not reclassified to the statement of profit and loss, in the subsequent periods.

Short term employee benefits: All employee benefits payable wholly within twelve months of rendering the service are classified as short term employee benefits and they are recognized in the period in which the employee renders the related service. The Company recognizes the undiscounted amount of short term employee benefits expected to be paid in exchange for services rendered as a liability.

The costs of providing pensions and other post-employment benefits are charged to the Statement of Profit and Loss in accordance with Ind AS 19 "Employee Benefits" over the period during which benefit is derived from the employees' services. The costs are assessed on the basis of assumptions selected by the management. These assumptions include salary escalation rate, discount rates, expected rate of return on assets and mortality rates. The same is disclosed in Note No. 46 "Employee Benefit Obligations".

2.13 Finance Cost

Borrowing costs consist of interest and other costs that an entity incurs in connection with the borrowing of funds and is measured with reference to the effective interest rate applicable to the respective borrowings.

2.14 Earnings Per Share

Basic Earnings per share is computed by dividing the profit from continuing operations and total profits, both attributable to equity shareholders of the Company by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period.

Diluted earnings per share are computed using the weighted average number of equity and dilutive equivalent shares outstanding during the period, except where the results would be anti-dilutive.

2.15 Provisions, Contingent Liabilities, Contingent Assets

Provisions are recognised when the Company has a present or constructive obligation as a result of past events, when it is probable (i.e. more likely than not) that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation, and when a reliable estimate of the amount can be made. Provisions are reviewed at the end of each financial reporting period and adjusted to reflect the current best estimate. When the Company expects some or all of the provision to be reimbursed, the reimbursement is recognised as a standalone asset only when the reimbursement is virtually certain.

Where effect of the time value of money is material, the provision is the present value of the estimated expenditure required to settle the obligation.

A contingent liability is a possible obligation that arises from past events and whose existence will only be confirmed by the occurrence of one or more uncertain future events not wholly within the control of the Company, or a present obligation arising from past events that is not recognised because it is not probable that an outflow of economic resources will be required or the amount of obligation cannot be measured reliably.

A contingent liability is not recognised but is disclosed in the notes to the financial information. When a change in the probability of an outflow occurs so that the outflow is probable, it will then be recognised as a provision.

A contingent asset is a probable asset that arises from past events and whose existence will be confirmed only by the occurrence of one or more uncertain future events not wholly within the control of the Company. The Company does not recognise contingent assets but discloses their existence where inflows of economic benefits are probable, but not virtually certain.

Provisions for onerous contracts are recognised when the expected benefits to be derived by the Company from a contract are lower than the unavoidable costs of meeting the future obligations under the contract. Provisions for onerous contracts are measured at the present value of lower of the expected net cost of fulfilling the contract and the expected cost of terminating the contract.

2.16 Segment Reporting

The Company identifies primary segments based on the dominant source, nature of risks and returns and the internal organisation and management structure. The operating segments are the segments for which separate financial information is available and for which operating profit/loss amounts are evaluated regularly by the Chief Operating Decision Maker (CODM) in deciding how to allocate resources and in assessing performance.

Disclosure under Indian Accounting Standard 108 – "Operating Segments" is not given as, in the opinion of the management, the entire business activity falls under one segment viz. Investment and financing activities. The Company conducts its business only in one Geographical Segment viz. India.

2.17 Rounding of Amounts

All amounts disclosed in the Ind AS financial statements and notes have been rounded off to the nearest Rupees in Lakhs as per the requirement of Schedule III to the Act, unless otherwise stated.

2.18 Recent Accounting Pronouncements

Fair Value –

The management assessed that fair values of financial assets and financial liabilities are approximately at their carrying values as recorded during the year and at the end of the year.

Note 41 - Fair Values as at 31st March, 2026 (₹ in Lakhs)

Financial Instruments – Fair Values and Risk Management

A. Accounting classification and fair values

The following table shows the carrying amounts and fair values of financial assets and financial liabilities, including their levels in the fair value hierarchy. The hierarchy does not include fair value information for financial assets and financial liabilities not measured at fair value because their carrying amount is a reasonable approximation of their fair value.

Principles for estimating -

The following summarises the major methods and assumptions used in estimating the fair values of financial instruments reflected in the table.

Fair Value Hierarchy -

Financial instruments carried at fair value, by valuation method at 31st March 2026 at the different levels have been defined as follows:

Level 1:

Category includes financial assets and liabilities that are measured in whole or in significant part by reference to published quotes in an active market.

Level 2:

Category includes financial assets and liabilities measured using a valuation technique based on assumptions that are supported by prices from observable current market transactions. These include assets and liabilities for which pricing is obtained via pricing services, but where prices have not been determined in an active market, financial assets with fair values based on broker quotes and assets that are valued using the company's own valuation models whereby the material assumptions are market observable.

Level 3:

Category includes financial assets and liabilities measured using valuation techniques based on non-market observable inputs. This means that fair values are determined in whole or in part using a valuation model or assumptions that are neither supported by prices from observable current market transactions in the same instrument nor are they based on available market data. However, the fair value measurement objective remains the same, that is, estimate an exit price from the perspective of the company. The main asset classes in this category are unlisted equity investments as well as unlisted funds.

The carrying amount of debt securities, other financial liabilities, loans, other financial assets, cash and cash equivalents as at 31st March, 2026 and 31st March 2025 are considered to be the same as fair values, due to their short-term nature.

Risk management objectives and policies –

A. Financial risk management

The Company's activities are exposed to a variety of market risks (including interest rate risk), credit risk and liquidity risk. The Company's overall financial risk management policy focuses on the unpredictability of financial markets and seeks to minimize potential adverse effects on the Company's financial performance.

i. Market Risk

Market risk is the risk that arises from changes in market prices, such as prices, interest rates etc. and will affect the company's income or the value of its holdings of financial instruments. The objective of market risk management is to manage and control market risk exposure within acceptable parameters, while optimising returns.

ii. Interest Rate Risk

Interest rate risk arises from the possibility that changes in interest rates will affect future cash flows or the fair values of financial instruments. The core business of the Company is providing loan against property and vehicle loans. The Company borrows through various financial instruments to finance its core lending activity. These activities expose the Company to interest rate risk.

Interest rate sensitivity - fixed rate instruments

The company's Loans have been given on fixed rates. Similarly, fixed rate borrowings are carried at amortised cost. They are therefore not subject to interest rate risk as defined in Ind AS 107, since neither the carrying amount nor the future cash flow will fluctuate because of a change in market interest rates.

Interest rate sensitivity - variable rate instruments

During the year, the Company has availed a term loan carrying a variable interest rate, wherein the variability is linked to the Repo Rate announced by the Reserve Bank of India (RBI). Accordingly, a reasonably possible change of 100 basis points in interest rates as at the reporting date would have resulted in a corresponding increase / decrease in the company's profit or loss and equity.

Interest Rate Sensitivity Table

Particulars	As at 31st March, 2026 (Rs. in Lakhs)	As at 31st March, 2025 (Rs. in Lakhs)
Fixed Rate Instrument
Financial Asset	10,166.57	2,611.11
Financial Liabilities	8,685.83	493.93
Variable Rate Instrument
Financial Asset	-	-
Financial Liabilities	351.61

Interest rate sensitivity - fixed rate instruments

The company's Loans have been given on fixed rates. Similarly, fixed rate borrowings are carried at amortised cost. They are therefore not subject to interest rate risk as defined in Ind AS 107, since neither the carrying amount nor the future cash flow will fluctuate because of a change in market interest rates.

Interest rate sensitivity - variable rate instruments

During the year, the Company has availed a term loan carrying a variable interest rate, wherein the variability is linked to the Repo Rate announced by the Reserve Bank of India (RBI). Accordingly, a reasonably possible change of 100 basis points in interest rates as at the reporting date would have resulted in a corresponding increase / decrease in the company's profit or loss and equity.

iv) Liquidity Risk

Liquidity risk is defined as the risk that the Company will encounter difficulty in meeting obligations associated with financial liabilities that are settled by delivering cash or another financial asset. Liquidity risk arises because of the possibility that the Company might be unable to meet its payment obligations when they fall due as a result of mismatch in the maturity of the financial assets and liabilities. Such scenarios could occur when funding needed for illiquid asset positions is unavailable to the Company on acceptable terms. To limit this risk, management has arranged for diversified funding sources and adopted a policy of managing assets with liquidity in mind and monitoring future cash flows and liquidity on a daily basis.

The table below provides details regarding the contractual maturities of financial liabilities, including estimated interest payments as at 31st March, 2026:

Total	776.18	388.12	197.73	190.33	-	776.18

iv. Capital Risk Management

The company manages its capital to ensure that the company will be able to maintain an optimal capital structure so as to support its businesses and maximise shareholder value.

v. Foreign Currency Risk

The company does not have any foreign currency exposures.

vi. Equity Price Risk

The company's quoted equity investments carry a risk of change in prices. To manage its price risk arising from investments in equity securities, the company periodically monitors the sectors it has invested in, performance of the investee companies, measures mark-to-market gains/losses. The fair value of some of the company's investments exposes the company to equity price risk. However, the company does not hold any equity investment as on 31st March, 2026.

vii. Credit Risk

Credit risk is the risk that the company will incur a loss because its Loans and Receivables fail to discharge their contractual obligations. The company has a framework for monitoring the credit quality of its Loans and Receivables based on days past due monitoring at period end. Repayment by individual Loans and Receivables are tracked regularly and required recovery are taken through follow-ups and legal recourse. Credit risk arises from Loans and Advances, Receivables, Cash and Cash Equivalents, Deposits with Banks and Investments.

Credit risk is the risk of financial loss to the company if a customer or counterparty to a financial instrument fails to meet its contractual obligations, and arises principally from the company's Loans and Advances, Receivables, Cash and Cash Equivalents, Deposits with Banks and Investments.

The company measures the expected credit loss of Loans and Receivables based on historical trends, industry practices and the business environment in which the entity operates. Expected Credit Loss is based on actual credit loss experienced and past trends based on the historical data.

(a) Credit Risk Management

Company considers probability of default upon initial recognition of asset and whether there has been any significant increase in credit risk on an ongoing basis throughout each reporting period. To assess whether there is a significant increase in credit risk, the company compares the risk of default occurring on the asset as at the reporting date with the risk of default as at the date of initial recognition. It considers available reasonable and supportive forward-looking information.

Definition of Default

A default on Loans and Advances is when the counterparty fails to make contractual payments within 90 days of when they fall due. This definition of default is determined by considering the business environment in which the NBFC operates and other macro-economic factors. For Trade Receivables, definition of default has been considered 360 days past due after looking at the historical trend of receiving payments.

Expected Credit Loss (ECL)

The Company prepares its financial statements in accordance with the Ind AS framework. As per the RBI notification, on acceptance of the Ind AS for regulatory reporting, the Company computes provision as per Ind AS 109 as well as per extant prudential norms on Income Recognition, Asset Classification and Provisioning (IRACP). Where impairment allowance in aggregate for the company under Ind AS 109 is lower than the provisioning required under IRACP (including standard asset provisioning for the company, the difference is appropriated from net profit or loss after tax, to a separate 'Impairment Reserve'. Any withdrawals from this reserve shall be made only with prior permission from the RBI.

ECL allowances recognized in the financial statements also reflect the effect of a range of possible economic outcomes, calculated on a probability weighted basis, based on certain economic scenarios.

The recognition and measurement of ECL involves the use of significant judgement and estimates. Forward looking economic forecasts are used in developing the ECL estimates. The multi-variable regression framework was used to establish a linkage between Company's default rates and various macroeconomic variables like unemployment rate, government expenditure, consumer expense, domestic credit investment and farm reserve levels amongst others on a case-to-case basis. Three scenarios sufficient to calculate unbiased ECL are used representing the "most likely outcome" (the "central" scenario) and two "less likely outcome" scenarios (the "upside" and "downside" scenarios). Probability weights have been assigned to each scenario based on past patterns observed in the multi variable regression process.

Management oversees the estimation of ECL including:

- (i) setting requirements in policy, including key assumptions and the application of key judgements;
- (ii) the design and execution of models; and
- (iii) review of ECL results.

As required by Ind AS 109, a "three-stage" model for impairment based on changes in credit quality since initial recognition was summarised below:

- A loan and asset that is not credit-impaired, on initial recognition, is classified in 'stage 1' and the company has continuously monitored by Management. The company categorises loan assets as 'stage 1' primarily based on 0-30 Days Past Due status.
- If a significant increase in credit risk (SICR) since initial recognition is identified, the loan asset is moved to 'stage 2' but is not yet deemed to be credit impaired. The company categorises loan assets as Stage 2 primarily based on 31-90 Days Past Dues status.
- If the financial instrument is credit-impaired, the financial instrument is then moved to 'stage 3' (see note 2.6 for a description of how the company defines credit-impaired). The company categorises loan assets as 'stage 3' primarily based on more than 90 Days Past Dues status. (Refer Note No. 36 and 56 for Stage-wise gross carrying amount of loans and loss allowance provisioning).

In accordance with the provisions of the Payment of Gratuity Act, 1972, the company has a defined benefit plan which provides for gratuity payments. The plan provides a lump sum gratuity payment to eligible employees at retirement or termination of their employment. The amounts are based on the respective employees' last salary drawn and the years of employment with the company.

The most recent actuarial valuation of the defined benefit obligation in relation to the gratuity scheme was carried out as at 31st March, 2026. The present value of the defined benefit obligations and the related current service cost and past service cost were measured using the Projected Unit Credit Method.

Based on the actuarial valuation obtained in this respect, the following table sets out the details of the employee benefit obligation as at the balance sheet date.

(vi) Sensitivity analysis

Reasonably possible changes at the reporting date to one of the relevant actuarial assumptions, holding other assumptions constant, would have affected the defined benefit obligation by the amounts shown below :

Particulars	As at 31st March, 2026 Increase	As at 31st March, 2026 Decrease	As at 31st March, 2025 Increase	2025 Decrease
Discount rate (1% movement) - Gratuity	(1.67)	1.86	(1.10)	1.34
Employee turnover (1% movement) - Gratuity	(0.91)	0.93	(0.36)	0.37
Future salary growth (1% movement) - Gratuity	1.85	(1.69)	1.32	(1.11)

The above sensitivity analyses have been calculated to show the movement in defined benefit obligation in isolation and assuming there are no other changes in market conditions at the reporting date. In practice, generally it does not occur. When we change one variable, it affects the others too. In calculating the sensitivity, the Projected Unit Credit Method at the end of the reporting period has been applied
